

The KEYSTONE India initiative

KEYSTONE is a collective initiative of several Indian health policy and systems research (HPSR) organizations to strengthen national capacity in HPSR towards addressing critical needs of health systems and policy development. KEYSTONE is convened by the Public Health Foundation of India in its role as Nodal Institute of the Alliance for Health Policy and Systems Research (AHPSR). The KEYSTONE organizing group and course faculty consists of HPSR researchers from:

- Indian Institute of Health Management Research, Jaipur
- Indian Institute of Management, Bengaluru
- Indian Institute of Public Health, Gandhinagar
- Indian Institute of Technology, Chennai
- Institute of Public Health, Bengaluru
- Jawaharlal Nehru University
- National Health Systems Resource Centre
- Post Graduate Institute of Medical Education and Research, Chandigarh
- Public Health Foundation of India
- Public Health Resource Network
- Society for Community Health Awareness, Research and Action
- Sree Chitra Tirunal Institute for Medical Sciences and Technology, Thiruvananthapuram
- Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai

Keystone Development Meeting to develop a capacity building strategy for HPSR in India

Seminar: Future of Health Policy & Systems Research in India

Inaugural KEYSTONE course 2015: commencement

Learning to See: documentary on the inaugural KEYSTONE course

Open Access HPSR Teaching & Learning Resources

